McGovern Will Match For a Fight With Erne.

The Brooklyn Terror Willing to Go Out of His Class.

HAS $5,000 TO WAGER.

Fitz's Sore Hand Causes Postponement of Ruhlin Bout.

McCoy Has Declared Contest With Sharkey Off.

New York, June 7 .- Sam Harris, manager of Terry McGovern, referring today to Frank Erne's challenge to meet McGovern, said:

"Erne makes a wrong statement when he says Terry made remarks that he could lick him. It was Erne who stated that he could defeat Terry inside of 10 rounds, and I accepted the challenge, but Erne did not seem too anxious to keep up his end of it.

"Now that Erne has declared himself anxious for a chance at McGovern he can have it as soon as he desires to, if he will make the weight 125 pounds at ringside instead of 128 pounds. Should he consent to this I will meet him anywhere he wants me to and bring my fountain pen with me and likewise my bank roll, and will wager him any part of $5,000 on the result. If the match is made I will agree to divide the money, 75 per cent to the winner and 25 per cent to the loser, or I will agree that the winner take all."

Al Herford, manager of Joe Gans, the colored lightweight, claims that Frank Erne need not seek a fight with McGovern, as he will match Gane against him immediately. Herford says that Frae agreed to give Gans another chance if he won, but for some unknown reason he declines to do so. self anxious for a chance at McGovern

JIM CORBETT'S PLANS. He Wants to Fight Jeffries One Year

From Now. New York, June 7.—Jim Corbett re-turned to the city yesterday after a week's tour with his sparring partner. week's four with his sparring partner, Jim McVey. The ex-champion is looking well, and says that after a few months rest he will ugain go into training for another championship battle with Jeffries. Corbett believes he will be in still better shape when he enters the ring next time than he was at Coney Island last month, and is confident that he confident the confident that the c

Coney Island last month, and is confident that he can defeat the Californian in the next attempt.

Speaking of his plans, Corbett said: "I see Jeffries says he is through with me because I would not fight him in two weeks. Well, that challenge was a bluff, but he can get himself in shape for a return match with me next spring. I am going to take things easy for the present, and next winter will go into active training, so I will be in good shape for a hard match in the early spring. Jeffries says he will not fight me. Well, if he doesn't I will claim the championship and then arrange a championship and then arrange a match with the next best man."

HUSTLING JOHN MADDEN. Buys a Brother to the Prince of Wales' Derby Winner.

New York, June 6.—Johnny Madden made one of the best deals of his ca-reer today. By cable he purchased from the Prince of Wales the four-yearfrom the Prince of Wales the four-year-old colt Sandringham, by St. Simon —Perdita II, a full brother to Diamond Jubilee, the Derby winner of the pres-ent year; to Persimmon, the Derby winner of 1806, and to Florizei II, a grand race horse.

The breeding and relationship of this olt is richness itself, and Mr. Mad has secured a valuable addition to his stud at Hamburg Place, Ky.

Sandringham was the highest priced yearling the Prince of Wales ever owned. So well was he thought of that he was given the name of the Prince's country seat. He went wrong early in his career, and all efforts to train him were fruitless. It was firmly believed that Sandringham, had he trained on, would have made the third of the St. Simon-Perdita II get to win the Derby.

of the St. Simon-Perdita II get to win the Derby.

The purchase was a surprise. Madden has always been regarded as a seller rather than a buyer of horses. He bred Hamburg, probably the greatest face horse this country ever saw, and sold him to Marcus Daly as a three-year-old for $41,000. He sold Admiration to W. C. Whitney last year for $10,000 and Kilmarnock this season to the same gentleman for $21,700. He also sold to Mr. Whitney Plaudit for the fancy price of $25,000.

Last season he disposed of David Garrick and The Chamberlain to Pierre Lorrillard and McMeekin to Mr. Barrick for $6,000. He also sold to Mr. rick for $6,000. He also sold to Mr. Whitney the two-year-old De Lack for a sum said to be $10,000. Every-thing in the horse line that Madden thing in the horse line that Madden touches seems to turn to gold. He bought Tillo, the Suburban winner, from N. Bennington, who had purchased him at the Rodgers & Rose sale. A few days later Madden turned around and sold Tillo for a large increase, Mr. Whitney being the buyer.

JEFFRIES TELLS THIS. Says He Will Never Fight Fitz Again if He Can Avoid It.

New York, June 7.—"Just a year ago Tuesday Robert Fitzsimmons lost the championship of the world. He had himself to blame, for he trained for a championship fight as if training for some 'mark' whom he was to stop in four younds.

"He thought Jeffries very close to four rounds.

"He thought Jeffries very close to Donkhorsi's class when he got into the ring. The surprise beat him. It wasn't dope, it was Jeffries. There was a time in the fight when Jeff. Ryan and everybody thought Fitz would win. No one hears of it now, but while in London Jeffries used to tell of how close he came to getting his, and of how many men he would fight in one ring sooner than meet Fitzsimmons," said a well known sporting man yesterday.

"It all occurred in the seventh round, so Jeff used to say. He had a sore collar-bone for two months to remind him of it. Fitz came to him swinging, and he broke ground toward the north end of the ring. Fitz carried him into the ropes and, just as they came together, let go a short left hook that landed fair. It was a trifle low to get the purse, but it caught Jeff on the collar-bone and glanced to his jaw. Few knew that he had been hit, but to this day Jeff cannot tell how he got through the rest of that round.

"The next round found Jeff with his

"The next round found Jeff with his right arm dead from the shoulder to the show, and it looked for a few minutes as if he would hardly recover the use of it. But it came around and Fitz never Canadian Peints.

"In telling the tale Jeff used to finish by saying: 'If it had been three inches higher— Well, it wasn't. But I'll never fight that red-headed fellow again while there is any other fighter on earth. I beat him, and once is enough for me! I don't care to beat him again."

JEFFRIES VS. SHARKEY. Sailor's Manager Says Fight Articles Will Be Signed.

Will Be Signed.

New York. Juna 7.—The articles of agreement for the battle between Jeffries and Sharkey, which were unsatisfactory to Sharkey because of the clause inserted in them which calls for the men to hit in clinches, will be signed in a few days. Tom O'Rourke, manager of Sharkey, said today that he was sure Sharkey would give in, and that the articles would be signed shortly. Sharkey and Yank Kenney, at one time Bob Fitzsimmon's spurring partner, have been matched to appear in a twenty-five round go at the Broadway club next Friday evening. Kenney is agils and clever, and able to fight fast and hard. During his engagement as sparring partner with Bob Fitzsimmons he learned all the latter's trick blows and ring tactics, and can utilize them to advantage. to advantage.

and Flowers at Philadelphia.

The Philadelphia Record says of Dick Gooley's first appearance in that city with the Plitisburg team:
Dick Cooley was the star attraction of the game. It was on the programme that the Phillies' ex-captain was to receive a present every time he came to bat, but the rain very rudely interfered after two presentations, and the other gifts were held over until Monday. The first time Cooley came to bat a beautiful floral piece was carried out on the field by four small boys. It represented a diamond laid out on smilax, the base lines being white carnations and the bases pink blossoms. Over the home plate rested a horseshoe, four feet high, with two crossed bats in the center and a floral baseball dangling from the top. The presentation was made by the committee of the "Hot-Air" club, of which Cooley was a stanch member. The second time up Cooley was presented with a diamond stud from the members of the Philadelphia team and several other friends.

New York, June 7.—Joe Walcott, who was taken ill last week at New Dorp, is rapidly recovering, and will be able to resume training in a few days for his fight with Joe Choynski in Chicago, and Billy Stift, which will be fought in Denver two weeks later. The limited round bout between Matty Matthews and Joe Gans, which was practically arranged on the night that Gans beat Hawkins, has fallen through. Johnny Dunn, manager of Matthews, after consenting to allow his man to fight Gans at 135 pounds, now man to fight Gans at 135 pounds, now refuses to do so, and, of course, the contest had to be declared off.

Baseball Gossip.

Baseball Gossip.

Several of the great batsmen of last season are still behind their clip, noticeably Keeler, Burkett and Freeman.

Keister, the former Oriole, who is now covering second for St. Louis, is playing excellently. His work in the Brooklyn game's was of the high-class order.

"Cupid" Childs is making quite a record at second for Chicago. He is playing as good as he did four years ago in Cleveland. Bradley at third is also deing well. McGuire's ankle is slowly mending. He is able to hobble around on it and thinks he will get in the game in less than a week. In the meantime "Charley" Farrell will have to do the catching.

The game that Dick Cooley is putting up now must make Philadelphia tired. Not only is the new pirate playing first base perfectly, but his batting is of a high order.

There must be some hoodoo about the Emporia Normal team that hasn't appeared on the surface. The playing of Washburn with K. U. and Haskell was of a much higher order than the Normal team put up in Topekie.

Boston is doing pretty well for a crippled team without pitchers.

The game botween Washburn and the Santa Fe shops next Saturday will be funnier than a comic almanac.

"Pittsburg has taree dangerous hitters in Beaumont, Williams and Wagner. Any one of the trio is liable to crack out a three-bagger, particularly when the bases are occupied."—Philadelphia paper. Wagner did it here and drove in two runs in that hist Sunday game between the Reds and Piratez.—Enquirer.

The prediction that Eimer Smith would go to New York, and Phill Geler to Comiskey's Chicago American League team, has been fuifiled. Smith will play right field for the Glants, and Winnie Mercer will no doubt roturn to the pitcher's box. Says the St. Louis Republic: "Again, Young, who is a man devoid of sentiment, has his choice of catchers, or, rather, it takes him some time to get acqualinted with his receiver. For years he pitched to Zimmer. When Chief broke down O'Connor had to catch Cy. It took Young some time to win with O'Connor behind him. Cuppy never cared who caught him. Zeke Wilson could always do best with O'Connor catching him. Young is now having the same trouble breaking in with Robinson that he had with O'Connor. He would have the same trouble breaking in with Robinson that he had with O'Connor. He would have the same trouble with Criger. Last fall Buelow caught him in what Cy afterward said was the 'best catching I ever had done for me.' It is funny that Young who is steady as a clock, should worry about his receiver. But he does."

Some changes are probable in several of the teams, notably Cincinnati, New York and Boston. The Cincinnatis have not been putting up anything like as good a game as they did early in the season. In batting, fielding and pitching Allen's players are away helow the average, and it is the intention to give several minor leaguers a change

BASEBALL AT WASHBURN. Santa Fe Reds to Meet the Blues on Saturday. The Santa Fe Reds will meet the Washburn baseball team on Saturday. This will be the first game of any moment which the reds have been able to arrange for.

The Santa Fe team is stronger this year. The Santa Fe team is stronger this year than it has been before for several years. They have had easy victories in all the games played this season. The fact that they are going against one of the best college teams in the west has had the effect of urging them to practice. As much time as could be spared by the players has been devoted to practice.

It is anticipated that the game Saturday will be as interesting as any played on the Washburn grounds this year. The following is the probable time-up:
